

Connectivity for Manufacturing and Logistics

Building a Solid Foundation for Modern Assembly, Warehousing and Transportation.

Manufacturing and logistics have evolved to be equal parts manual and digital. The right IT goes a long way towards keeping everything running on time and within budget.

The right IT for industry 4.0

Maintaining productivity, security and efficiency is a delicate balancing act. One wrong input can disrupt this carefully orchestrated chain. And with so much technology woven into every area – IIoT, digital twins, supply chain integrations, automated production and robotics – underpowered or ineffective IT could be that point where everything breaks down.

Segra provides manufacturers and transportation operations of all sizes, from specialized fabrication shops to massive distribution centers, with carrier-grade connectivity and networking services that can handle the heaviest workloads with ease.

More than just industrial-grade internet ...

- Fast, reliable, secure fiber internet keeps your staff and equipment connected throughout your facilities.
- Wavelength services deliver dedicated connections with speeds up to 400 Gbps for maximum throughput and consistent, reliable performance.
- SD-WAN simplifies your ability to unite multiple locations on the same network for greater control, performance and cost savings.
- EdgeLync offers a flexible and cost-effective way to support your network infrastructure, whether as a high-speed backup or as a primary connection for remote locations.
